VICARIO ARTISANAL SPIRITS

Renato Vicario, a Piemonte native, and his wife, Janette Wesley, create Vicario Wines and Spirits between their vineyards in Cortona, Toscana and Greer, South Carolina. At the microdistillery, they have developed a portfolio of award-winning liqueurs based on ancient recipes, rare fruits, and age-old traditions.

Vicario's goal is to grow the finest herbs and fruits without the use of chemical pesticides, herbicides, fertilizers or other non-organic means. The ingredients are collected at their optimal harvest times to provide the finest experience "dal giardino al bicchiere" or from garden to glass!

CORTONA:

THE NATURAL SIDE OF TOSCANA

Cortona is a small town perched in the hills of eastern Toscana. The village has a long and illustrious viticultural history dating back to Etruscan times. Today, the area has become a place of great wine-growing interest, as the non-“traditional” grapes of the region excel here: Syrah, Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon.

VERTICAL OFFERING OF ETNA ROSSO: ALBERTO AIELLO GRACI

Etna has been one of Europe's most exciting areas for wine. Here vines grow on the side of an active volcano allowing for changes on soils and vineyards from year to year because of the molten rock below. The vineyard sites are divided into areas known as Contrade. Contrada Arcurìa in Passopisciaro sits at an altitude of 660 meters at the heart of the Etna DOC. In part of the vineyard, the vines are trained while the other part are the original ungrafted alberello style (bush-trained). All of the vineyards are farmed according to the European laws for sustainable agriculture.
